Forecast for Tuesday 27 Oct 2020

Weather: Cloud will quickly thicken from the west around dawn, bringing spells of patchy rain or drizzle through the morning, this turning heavy for an hour or two through early to mid-afternoon. There is some uncertainty over the timing of rain clearing but a few further scattered showers are expected into the evening, some on the heavy side.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 600m: 60% at first, soon falling to almost no chance as rain sets in and cloud becomes extensive above 500m, perhaps lower across the southern fells. Improving 80% by evening.

Visibility: Becoming widely limited to a handful of kilometres on lower slopes in rain and drizzle but with fog dominating on higher slopes making navigation tricky, especially with the strong winds.
